

Parchment Club

Held In the Shop

What is Parchment Craft?

Parchment craft uses specialist translucent papers that change colour and become stretched when pressure is applied with tools.

This technique is known as embossing.

The essence of parchment craft is in varying the amount of embossing to the paper to control the shade of colour in the design

Parchment craft designs were all on white translucent paper and the simplicity of this has kept it popular with crafters today.

However, the craft has developed over recent years and new products such as coloured parchment papers and coloured inks to apply to designs have allowed crafters to take it a stage further.

Designs can be further enhanced by pricking and cutting into the parchment paper.
